Creation of the Oakland Redistricting Commission

As you may know, last year the City of Oakland underwent a redistricting process for the districts lines that apply to City Council and Oakland School Board districts. The redistricting process in 2013 attempted to engage the broader community and encourage citizen participation by those impacted by the lines drawn in the final map. While last year's process was better than in decades past, I strongly believe that these decisions should not have been made by the elected officials who stand to benefit from them.

As we look forward to the next decade, we have an opportunity to make future redistricting more democratic by putting the decision-making power into the hands of Oakland residents who are neither elected officials nor political insiders. This can be done through the creation of an independent Redistricting Commission. In the spirit of the democratic process, please take a moment to complete a brief survey on how a Redistricting Commission might look for Oakland.

MLK Day of Service 2014

The Martin Luther King Jr. Day holiday is right around the corner. On January 20, 2014, Oaklanders across our city and Americans across the country will volunteer to help their neighbors and fellow community members. Reverend King once said, "Life's most persistent and urgent question is: What are you doing for others?"

How will you get out and help on MLK day this year? If you need some ideas, please visit <http://www.serve.gov/> or <http://mlkday.gov/index.php>. These sites provide a search engine for many of the volunteer opportunities near you and your family this January 20th. Please join us in serving the communities of Oakland. One invaluable option that is available on the Saturday preceding MLK Day—or almost any other day of the week—is to donate blood through the Red Cross or another local blood bank.
