Kyle O'Malley	1.2, 2.1 update

- Chair Tevelson reports meeting with OPD and initial steps in confirming a presentation from OPD at the November meeting and directs ADA staff to continue to press for confirmation.

Exhibit A

- Chair Tevelson reports ADA Programs has been moved out of OakDOT and is now part of the City Administrator's Office as recommended by MCPD.
- Vice Chair Eberhardt will touch base with other commissioners working on the same goals.
- Commissioner Hattersley has no updates but looks forward to advancing affordable housing opportunities.
- Commissioner O'Malley would like to support however he can but especially with goal 1.2 and to assist the community in terms of disasters and power shut offs. Also interested to update the goal stated in 2.1.
- Chair Tevelson states that ADA Programs has recommended 3 new appointees to the Mayor's office and hopes they will be appointed in time to participate in developing the 2023 strategic plan goals.
- Commissioner Moore does not believe that he has been assigned any goal and Chair Tevelson reminds him that he signed up for 2.1 and that he could go ahead and review the strategic goals and updates just sent out.

Chair Tevelson updated the commission on the position taken on hosting candidate forums during 2022 strategic planning that MCPD and ADA programs did not have capacity but urged all commissioners to reach out to all candidates running to advocate on behalf of persons with disabilities.

- Chair Tevelson would like to be provided with contacts for all candidates for Oakland Mayor and Oakland City Council seats

Zero Emission Vehicle Action Plan Update with Michael Randolph from OakDOT.

- Vice Chair Eberhardt observes that all the charging times and options mentioned seem like a very long time to make a car just go and that there would need to be a lot of charging stations to meet the need. She also does not like the use of PG&E and it seems like it would be very difficult to manage the charging. What about the costs of retrofitting housing?

- Commissioner O'Malley what is the ideal proportion of public and private ownerships of charging facilities? Is there publicly owned real estate that is accessible and has been identified for potential use?
- East Bay Community Energy provides clean energy to Oakland and is a partner utility in the effort to build out charging in the East Bay. There are already a few chargers in the public right of way but it is expected that there will be a lot of public/private partnerships needed to meet capacity.
- Chair Tevelson will accessible spots have signs? Yes. What about BART? They have their own plan and agenda but they are also thinking it through right now but contacts have been made with them. Will there be enforcement at charge stations that are used for parking? Municipal codes will need to be updated to actually enforce charging only.
- The issue of battery fires with ZEVs is a safety concern and there is dialogue with OFD and keeping them updated on addressing the batteries and the charging stations is an action in the plan.

Kerby Olsen, presented and took questions and comments on a proposal to systematically address parking on the sidewalk on narrow streets throughout the City where this behavior occurs.

- Chair Tevelson mentions that High Street from MacArthur that is a wider street but the driveways are very steep and residents avoid them and use the sidewalk.
- Commissioner O'Malley asked about the equity issue and whether enforcement might be based on the amount of off-street parking available. Resident parking might be more accessible in more affluent neighborhoods.
- The goal is to improve sidewalk access for the benefit of everyone who uses it. The job is really just to enforce the rules about where people should not be parking and the plan is to address the issue wherever it occurs.

- Michele Magar wonders if there is plan to prioritize streets with persons who use wheelchairs who have made complaints. The plan now is to address the narrow streets where sidewalk parking occurs. It is a good suggestion to look at where the complaints are coming in. Parking enforcement does respond to requests and parking citation data can and should be used in the ongoing analysis.
- Commissioner O'Malley would like to see the updated data sets on the complaints about sidewalk parking.
- Commissioner Moore recommends a connection with Lighthouse for the Blind which does travel training in Oakland.
- Short driveways that extend over the sidewalk are not private property so cars that are parked over the sidewalk are blocking the right of way and there is enforcement.

Chair Tevelson suggested that MCPD include community outreach at city sponsored events and using engagement opportunities with social media in the 2023 strategic planning with the goal of increasing attendance and community input. He urges all commissioners to reach out to all candidates running to advocate on behalf of persons with disabilities and to share any contacts that they have for the candidates.

- Anh Nguyen says that ADA Programs has an MCPD table banner.
- Michele Magar suggested that MCPD draft a set of questions for Mayoral candidates (and City Council?) and send them to each candidate. The MCPD can publish their responses side by side so that their positions on disability issues and the critical importance of ADA compliance in the City of Oakland is transparent and in their own words.
- Chair Tevelson has asked that each commissioner think about their questions and send them to staff attention.

There was a discussion on an MCPD Retreat for strategic planning.

Exhibit A

- Chair Tevelson asked for a survey on who is interested and who is available for an in-person meeting on a Saturday in October or November.
- It is not certain that the City of Oakland is ready to have in person commission meetings. Anh says he will continue to reach out for clarification.

Chair Tevelson requested the meeting be extended 5 to 10 minutes although Vice Chair Eberhardt did have to leave at 7:30 pm.

- Chair Tevelson requests that Anh reach out and find out if we can have a meeting in person and what location the city can offer.
- Anh still wants to determine the interest in having an in-person retreat and will send out a survey to find level of interest.
- Chair Tevelson asks if meeting can be changed to November.

Staff Updates and Announcements

- There is an Oakland Mayor Candidates forum at Laney College on August 30th.
- ADA Programs has moved to City Administrator's Office.
- Anh needs a facilitator to help with the strategic plan and asks that if anyone has a good candidate to send him the information.

The meeting was adjourned at 7:40 pm

Commissioners	Present (x)
Howard Tevelson (Chair)	x
Cathy Eberhardt (Vice Chair)	x
Noah Smith (Vice Chair)	x
Erin Hattersley Ferrera	excused
Ayanna Keeton	absent
Marjorie Lynne	absent
Leonard Moore	late
Kyle O'Malley	x

No quorum was established, and the meeting chair convened an informational meeting to hear Commission and staff announcements, take public comment, and receive presentations.

Exhibit B

Open Forum

- Families United for Equity is a group of family members of clients and vendors of the Regional Center of the East Bay (RCEB).
- Assata Olugbala says that Regional Center of the East Bay (RCEB) has multiple pending lawsuits regarding pattern of discrimination in lack of equity in services to black and Hispanic clients, and referrals to 90% white providers. The majority of clients are black and Hispanic and many are homeless.
- Kay Medina is the parent of a child with a disability who is part of a group demanding that the Governor fire CA Department of Development Services Director Nancy Bargeman for a pattern of discrimination that has been validated by several audits and the subject of an investigation also validating allegations.

No modifications were suggested for the agenda in addition to the change to an informational meeting for lack of quorum.

Commissioner's Announcements and Strategic Plan Updates

- Chair Tevelson still hopes for a presentation from OPD in November and requests staff reach out again and that he will call if still no response.
- Vice Chair Eberhardt requests better input from Commissioners in response to what they want to know from local low-income housing developers.
- Vice Chair Eberhardt also reports that the Equity Working Group (EWG) for the City of Oakland General Plan Update she is serving on are not having their recommendations incorporated into any part of the Housing Element plan so far and that if they are not, then the work of the of EWG is pointless.
- Vice Chair Smith has been in touch with the City Attorney on the status of the elevator ordinance and is still waiting on them to provide a date that they can present to the commission.

Exhibit B

2023 Strategic planning will begin at the regular October MCPD Meeting following a presentation on the Waterfront Ballpark District proposal requiring the input of MCPD per the Oakland City Council.

Oakland Fire Department's Chief of Staff Michael Hunt, Jessica Feil, Emergency Management Services Division (EMSD) Manager, Zack Adinoff and Kyle Trambley (EMSD) and Elliott Jones, Program Manager of the new Mobile Assistance Community Responders of Oakland, MACRO, pilot program, presented on Mass Care and Shelter, Communities of Oakland Responding to Emergencies (CORE) and Community Emergency Response Plan Training (CERT) opportunities and accessibility, and the MACRO pilot program.

- MACRO needs a resource lead for medical supply connection for mobility aides that get stolen overnight from unhoused pwds.
- Vice-Chair Smith asks if the City has a database of residents with mobility issues and recommends that apartment buildings have lists of residents who have mobility and access and functional needs during emergencies. EMSD has been promoting neighbors and communities helping neighbors with needs by creating an awareness during training. There was once a 911 registry that is no longer used and was not an effective tool during emergencies.
- Commissioner O'Malley comments that there seems to be a great deal of reliance on the community to respond to the needs of pwds during emergencies. He asks if there are long term plans for MACRO calls to be moved away from 911 – as it might not be a good idea. How can MCPD support MACRO right now during this phase of development?
- City Council has prioritized the 911 system and MACRO is currently working through that system. A dedicated MACRO line in OFD would likely be years into the future. 911 is currently the best for data collection and documentation as well as tracking and keeping the calls in the specified locations. MCPD should continue to ask MACRO questions and reach out with their concerns and suggestions.

Exhibit B

- Chair Tevelson asks can a person with disabilities (pwd) participate in the trainings? All trainings are made to be accessible and pwds can participate. They are designed to give people the information they need to learn how to assist. There is no “general” disaster worker training.
- Chair Tevelson also is happy to hear that MACRO is not just to respond to mental health issues as he first thought, but addresses all of the various issues that they encounter who need assistance.
- Vice Chair Smith expressed his concern, along with the rest of the commission, about the issues faced by unhoused residents with various disabilities and his appreciation that MACRO is addressing them.
- Sheela Gunn-Cushman states that it is an ongoing problem for residents with mobility devices that are picked up and transported by emergency services to the hospital without their chairs or other mobility devices.
- Disability Justice Culture Club is a good mutual aid network in Oakland with a focus on serving BIPOC. South Berkeley Mutual Aid Project also has some people in Oakland.
- Michele Magar asked about how the MACRO team will approach the CARE Courts act that recently passed and how that will impact their ability to gain trust working with the people that they serve. Right now MACRO has people completely in control of their own lives and choices and completely calling the shots about what happens and does sound to be the opposite of CARE courts.
- Commissioner O’Malley thinks this concern about CARE courts is spot on and believes that MCPD should work on the issue and how it is rolled out in the City of Oakland.

The Chair approved a Community Needs Assessment Survey proposal from Michele Magar as an excellent way to inform 2023 strategic planning. Michele will draft a list of her proposed survey stakeholder recipients to share with MCPD commissioners O’Malley and Smith for any additional suggestions.
